Make a difference for yourself and others

Volunteering fulfills and enriches your everyday life. You give time, attention, and shared moments. With your strengths and interests, you help shape the daily life of our residents and experience how valuable your commitment is.

You don't need any special prior knowledge. Much more important are your personal qualities, your life experience, and the joy of being together.

What you gain

Volunteering gives your actions meaning and depth. You experience real encounters, meet new people, and discover other perspectives. You strengthen your social skills, gain enriching experiences and become part of a committed community. Gratitude accompanies you.

We appreciate your commitment

- Flexibility: Even spontaneous assignments are possible
- Annual training and exchange
- Meals during the assignment
- Insurance coverage during all assignments
- Assignment certificate as recognition of your service

What you give comes back many times over: in smiles, gratitude, and shared moments.
